

KINCAID SITE

Address Restricted, Brookport vicinity (Massac and Pope Counties)

This is one of the major temple mound sites in the Midwest. Research undertaken here has played a vital role in developing chronology for dating pre-Columbian sites in the region. Its location suggests that the site was a major trade station along the Ohio River, and its extent and abundant refuse suggests a long period of occupancy.